Learn about us!

Wesley Mission Queensland (WMQ) is an innovative and responsive not-for-profit community service provider, helping people across Queensland build stronger and more inclusive communities since 1907.

WMQ works to provide accessible and flexible services to older people, those living with a disability or mental illness, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders, refugees and vulnerable children and families.

With more than 3000 people and 2400 volunteers across approximately 90 services, Wesley Mission Queensland has a broad range of employment and career development opportunities across the large region it operates in.

In 2012 Connect 'n' Grow® was founded initially to help Australia's First Peoples delivering Health & Community services education in far North Queensland.

Now in our 10th year we have expanded our delivery across Queensland, Northern Territory and South Australia.

Connect 'n' Grow® are a dedicated team working to bring quality health education to our students and partner employers. As a Registered Training Organisation (RTO) our mission is to build a job-ready health and community services workforce that provides care to all.

The health and community services sector is already the largest employer in Queensland, and it is predicted that 1 in 4 jobs created in Australia in the next 5 years will be in the health and social service sector.

Seed Foundation Australia is a not-for-profit organisation founded in 2015, with an aim to provide high-quality education and wrap-around support services to improve the health and well-being of Australia's first people.

Seed Foundation Australia provides ongoing support into employment and higher education for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students who undertake training with Connect 'n' Grow®.

Their vision is to grow the true potential of Australia's First People by inspiring and promoting self-determination through education, health and employment.
